DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The indicated allowability of claim 17 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to a modified LMS algorithm using channel taps covariance matrix. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow. Since a new ground of rejection is set forth in this Office action in connection with claim 17, the finality of the previous Office action is withdrawn and this Office action is made non-final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Komulainen et al (US 6,658,047).

comprising;

obtaining channel taps associated with a communication channel (120), estimating a channel taps covariance matrix, see col. 5, lines 60-61, updating the channel taps using "a modified least mean square," (i. e., LMMSE) using the covariance matrix. See col. 5, lines 49-59.

Art Unit: 2638

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1,2,4-6,9-13,15,16,20-23 are allowed.
5. Claim 18 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
